

„ROCZNIKI HISTORII SOCJOLOGII”
VOL. XI (2020)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS	5
Gerd Vonderach, Die Anfänge der Gesellschaftswissenschaften und der Sozialstaatsidee in Deutschland bei Robert von Mohl und Lorenz von Stein	7
Stefan Konstańczak, Adam Schaff as a „Reformer” of Polish Sociology	29
Marcin Choczyński, Lublin–Warsaw School of the Sociology of Religion. Considerations on the Continuity of Scientific Thought at ATK and UKSW	55

Marta Bucholc, Traffickers and Heroes: Werner Sombart on Culture, War and Capitalism	67
Jarosław Kiliński, Socialisms of Werner Sombart	85
Borys Cymbrowski, Marx’s Inspirations in the Works of Werner Sombart and Their Impact on the Development of Historical Sociology	107
ARCHIVE
Preface (Włodzimierz Winclawski)	119
Lili Schwengrub, The question of polish national identity among Warmiak’s and Masurians. Doctoral thesis’s synopsis	121
RECENZJE I NOTY
▪ Jan Arend (ed.), Science and Empire in Eastern Europe. Imperial Russia and the Habsburg Monarchy in the 19th Century. Proceedings of the Annual Conference of Collegium Bad Wiessee, 5–8 Nov. 2015 , Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, München 2020, 334 pp. (Łukasz M. Dominiak) ▪ Stanisław Ossowski, Dzienniki. Tom I: 1905–1939 , ed. R. Sułek, Wydawnictwo Naukowe Scholar, Warszawa 2019, 285 pp. (Jan Kazmierczak)	127